

We're Hiring!

Copper & Theory is seeking an experienced full-time Sales Representative for the Lower Mainland. If you're an ambitious beer lover who wants to work for a fast-growing, entrepreneurial company then send us your resume ASAP! More information is below.

Job Duties Include:

- Acting as an ambassador for our company and our brands with all accounts in the territory;
- Making daily account visits throughout the territory;
- Increase market share in the territory;
- Build new, and maintain existing accounts;
- Develop expert beer knowledge and understanding of product line;
- Conduct promotions on a regular basis, including, but not limited to, tastings and staff education.
- Source and participate in a variety of special events.
- Accurately report activities and account information to management.
- Track activities via CRM software

The Ideal Candidate Shall:

- Reside in the Lower Mainland;
- Have 3-5 years experience in the hospitality, beer, wine or spirits industry, ideally in a sales role.
- Previous experience with CRM Software;
- Possess a comprehensive understanding of beer styles, production methods, and trends;
- Be able to lift 50lbs;
- Have a reliable late model vehicle;
- Show an ability to constantly learn more;
- Post-Secondary education in Business;
- Excellent written and oral communications skills;
- Strong customer service skill;
- Demonstrated ability in negotiation and professional selling;
- Strong time management and prioritization skills;
- Proficiency in MS Office;
- Must have a BC driver's license with proof of a clean abstract

We offer a competitive salary, car allowance, generous vacation time, medical and dental benefits, and a few other perks that just happen to come along with working in the beer industry (hint – they’re bubbly).

Candidates can apply to jobs@copperandtheory.com. While we appreciate all applicants taking the time to send us their information, only those deemed qualified for the role shall be contacted for interviews.

Thank you!
